

Chicago Office Hosts Chinese American Bar Association Installation Ceremony

October 29, 2019

Alan Chen addresses Chinese American Bar Association of Greater Chicago's 33rd Annual Installation Ceremony.

On Oct. 23, McGuireWoods hosted the Chinese American Bar Association of Greater Chicago's 33rd Annual Installation Ceremony, which drew about 150 attendees, including about 40 federal and state judges, to the Chicago office's Iridium Center. McGuireWoods' Asian Pacific Lawyers Network was a sponsor for the event.

Chicago associate Alan Chen, a board member of the Chinese American Bar Association (CABA) of Greater Chicago, fostered McGuireWoods' involvement in this event. He also served as master of ceremonies, providing opening remarks and announcing award winners.

This is the first time the firm has partnered with CABA on an event, Chen said, but added that the firm has a history of supporting the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association, regarded as a parent organization for CABA, with a number of members common to both organizations.

The McGuireWoods website provides information of general interest to the public. The website does not offer legal advice about specific situations or problems. You should consult a McGuireWoods lawyer if you have legal issues requiring attention. Nothing on this site creates an express or implied contract. McGuireWoods does not intend to create an attorney-client relationship by inviting you to contact us. Unless and until we and you agree that we will represent you, we will not have any duties to you, including any duty to keep what you send us confidential or any duty to protect your interests. This means that nothing you send us will be kept confidential, unless we mutually agree that we will keep it confidential. Past legal successes described on this website are not indicators of future results. The outcome of particular legal matters is dependent upon the facts and law applicable to the matters.